

Well Engineering

Well engineering is a combined discipline including drilling, testing, completions Engineering. We focus on digital solutions and systems. The E&P companies is operating in more challenging times and targets, with more focus on environment and cost efficient solutions.

EXPERIENCE

Acona have a unique core workforce of well engineers and offshore supervisors trained to the highest standards.

Since 2008 Acona teams have delivered 68+ NCS drilling and intervention projects on a full well management basis.

WELL ENGINEERING SERVICES

Alongside well management, Acona provides standalone well engineering services to E&P clients within the oil and gas industry.

- Peer reviews, incident investigation, well control reviews
- Drilling, workover and abandonment plans
- Cost estimates
- Well design studies
- Relief well planning
- independent reviews and continuous audit of well control risks for oåerators and rig owners.

SINGLE PLACEMENT SERVICES

Acona is one of world's largest and most experienced well engineering groups. Acona staff have top-level expertise in drilling and well technology, offshore well operations and related disciplines. Our consulting department provides carefully-screened consultants in most disciplines, like the following:

- Drilling Superintendents
- Drilling Supervisors
- Drilling Engineers
- Completion Engineers
- HSE Coordinators/Advisors
- Drilling Materials Coordinators
- Well Cost Specialists
- Contract specialists
- Well Test Engineers
- Well Services Supervisors
- Subsea Engineers
- Well intervention Engineers

CONTACTS

Jan O. Strand

Manager,
Well Management &
Engineering

+47 90 57 26 05

jan.strand@acona.com

Acona AS

Laberget 24
N-4066 Stavanger
Norway

Tel. (+47) 52 97 76 00

